Our range of complementary snacks is made through a completely handmade process that guarantees the optimal conservation of all its nutrients. For this reason, batches of snacks can suffer color variations due to the variability of natural raw materials, which change color according to the time of year and the cooking process.

These differences in the color of the snacks do not alter neither its nutritional quality nor its incomparable texture and flavor.

SNACKS ELABORATION PROCESS

Tips for the correct management of snacks:

In order to promote the proper use of our natural snacks for adult dogs, we offer you a series of important tips and recommendations:

- The dog should follow a balanced and complete diet.
It is important to emphasize that snacks are a complementary food and, therefore, the dog's diet should never be based on excessive consumption of these.
- It is important to promote daily exercise and water intake
Remember to always leave at the disposal of your dog a bowl with clean and fresh water. Through walks and games, ensure daily physical exercise commensurate with your race's age and physical abilities.
- The recommended daily consumption of snacks should not exceed 10% of the daily kilocalories ingested by the dog
An excessive intake of snacks could generate overweight problems. The amount of kilocalories consumed may vary depending on the breed or age of the dog.
- Educate through positive reinforcement. It is advisable to moderate the amount of snacks offered to the dog in order to perceive them as a prize or reward for proper behavior.
- During training, you can change the type of snack to keep the interest of the dog.
